Candidates In For Tough Battle In Town Election

The biggest battle in years for Town offices was forecast this week with new candidates entering the field every day.

Edward Higgins entered the political scramble this week to oppose Frank Hughes for Public Works.

Kenneth Troy filed for Housing Authority in opposition to Myron Chase for the five year term and William McEveever took opposites with James Doyle for the two year term.

The Selectman fight was still split with four men out for the post to be vacated by Joseph A. Purcell. They are; Robert E. Mahoney, William Barnstead, Daniel Hooley and Walter Kenney.

A new entry into the School Committee roster made this a six man race. Nelson E. Brown filed his papers along with Edward J. Sennott, Eleanor Strong, James Kidder, John Allison, and Robert Brosnan.

Two offices remain uncontested those of Town Clerk and Tree Warden. James J. Golden and George Dolan are up for re-election unopposed to date.

John O'Brien, filed papers for Assessor this week to the surprise of Arthur W. Sampson and Albert Hanson, also candidates for the job.

Wheaten B. Henderson is candidate for Cemetary commissioner; Margaret Heaps and Llewellyn Parsons for Library trustees; William O'Brien and Ira Jones for the Sinking fund; Carl L. Peterson and Carl Barstow for the board of health; Frederick Glynn for the planning board and Edward Henderson for Park comissioner. J. Wilbert Anderson is up for re-election as treasurer.

$100 Mixup

While examing official forms on file in his office listing election campaign receipts and expenditures, Secretary of State Edward J Cronin was startled today to discover that he was listed as having made a $100 contribution to the Republican Committee of Ward 8, Boston.

Closer examination of the form revealed that Isabelle Pye of Roxbury had listed Secretary Cronin as the sole contributor to the ward committee's 1950 campaign chest.

Having made no such donations to any candidate or campaign committee, Mr. Cronin later discovered that it was a case of mistaken identitly and that the money had been received by the committee from another source.

Korean Vet' Dependents To Get VA Office

Dependents of servicemen who have taken part in military action in Korea are advised by the Veterans Administration that an office is conveniently located for the handling of insurance or any other claims. VA personnel will be glad to assist with information and the filling out of any forms which may be required.

The Veterans Administration office serving this community is at the City aHll Annex, 57 Inman Street, Cambridge, Mass.

One Hurt When Trolley, 2 Cars Crash In Storm

One person was hospitalized and more than a score were shaken up late Sunday night in an accident involving an MTA trolley and two automobiles on Massachusetts av. near Varnum st., at the heights of the snowstorm.

Trolleys on the Harvard sq.-Arlington Heights line were delayed more than a half hour and several officers wre sent to reroute traffic.

Treated at Symmes Arlington Hospital Hospital for slight internal injuries was Theodore Masteralexis of 39 Tananger st., Arlington, operator of one of the cars.

More than 30 persons aboard the Harvard sq. bound MTA trolley, operated by Charles Cole of Cambridge, were shaken up but, police said, thy refused hospital treatment.

According to police an auto operated by Frank E. Anderson, 53, of 8 Williams st., Arlington, skidded on the tracks and collided with an oncoming trolley.

A second auto, operated by Masteralexs, hit the rear of the Anderson car and spun it around on the slippery tracks.

Flash

Shortly before press time it was reported that Frank J. Hughes has dropped from the Public Works race leaving Edward Higgins virtually unopposed.

"Bigger And Better" Symmes Hospital Plan

Attention Arlingtonians: You know, of course that sickness is no respecter of person, time or place. That is one reason why we all should participate in the Completion Campaign of the Symmes Arlington Hospital Building Fund.

And do you know that one in every eight persons requires hospital care each year? That is another reason for active interest in this important community drive. You or one of your family may be THE one his year. And how comforting to know that right here in our own town a class A hospital is prepared to take care of these one in eight persons.

The building fund campaign of 1949 gave the Trustees sufficient funds to build a magnificant addition to the hospital, hereby affording enough space for up to date equipment, enough space for convenient working conditions of the staff, enough space to overcome crowding and to eliminate as far as possible the "waiting list." All this was done— but the operation of the hospital is not yet as full and complete as the Trustees plan to have it. Improved and modernized equipment is needed in the operating and Emergency rooms, for Laboratory and X-Ray dapartments, and elsewhere throughout the buildings. It takes money to supply all these needs. That is why we call upon our own people to do their share toward keeping Symmes Hospital in the A class.

We of today should be everlastingly grateful to the humane generosity of Stephen Symmes, who way back in 1901 established the first hospital fund in our community. Up to that time our sick and disabled usually were sent to a Boston hospital. That first little hospital building cost about $40,000, and comprised toward wardrooms for about ten patients, and 14 other rooms, some for use of private patients. That is a far cry from the mighty hospital of today, for which much praise is due the various Boards of Trustees.

So, don't let them down this time. Remember, you may be next, you may require the most modern methods and equipment to combat your case, so do your part to see that the new annex is completed, pronto.

President's Order Confuses Selective Service Boards

Complete confusion reigned today at both the Arlington and State selective service boards. The mixup is the result of an announcement by President Truman this week regarding draft age men applying to their draft boards prior to enlistment.

The Arlington board has been swamped with calls and visits from youths planning to enlist before they are drafted

The board could not assist them or give them any information relative to the new order as they have not been advised of is contents.

The PRESS looked into the situation and the best answer that can be given is the following interpretation of the order.

The new law merely provides a means whereby men between the ages of 18 to 26 year-old would have dropped out of college or quit their jobs in anticipation of an early draft call may get started immediately on their military careers.

All men taken in for service in this draftee "Volunteer class" through local boards will receive immediate orders to report to training camps. A "V" for volunteer will be placed on their regis-

Hearing On Terminal Subway Bill Jan. 31

At 10:30 A M., on Wednesday, January 31, before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, in Room 207, at the State House, several bills affecting Arlington with regard to better transportation and traffic relief will be given a public hearing. Most of these bills were introduced by Representative Henry E. Keenan. These bills concern all residents of the town and they, as well as the representatives of town and civic organizations, should be present at this hearing and voice their opinions.

These bills call for the underground extension of the Harvard Square subway to Porter Square, and then overground to the vacant land just off the Concord Turnpike, where a terminal will be built.

Another bill calls for the conveyance of this land from the Metropolitan District Commission to the Metropolitan Transit Authority for the purpose of building the terminal.

The other bills call for an overpass, underpass or a traffic circle to be bulit at the junction of Massachusetts Avenue and Alewife Brook Parkway at the Arlington-Cambridge line, and for similar construction at the junction of Broadway and Alewife Brook Parkway at the Arlington-Somerville line.

There is also a bill calling for the building of an extension of Mystic Valley Parkway in Medford on the Medford side of the Mystic River to allow traffic coming down from Winchester or Woburn to stay on the Medford side of the Mystic River instead of coming back into Arlington. Another bill calls for the rerouting of Route 60 to Route 16 for pleasure vehicles.

It is hoped that many citizens of the Town of Arlington will attend these hearings.

Three Missing Boys Return, One Sought

Three of four school boys, who ran away from home last Friday morning, returned early Monday morning after a week-end in New York where they saw the sights. The trip was financed by the fourth youth, Richard Harrow who was still missing at this writing.

The latter, Richard Harrow, 15, of 23 Howard st., Arlington, was reported to have left New York Sunday night for New York or Philadelphia.

Arlington police who had broadcast a nation-wide alarm for the missing quartet notified police of these cities to be on the look-out for the youngster.

The three who returned at 4 am., today were; Neil Beaton, 12, of 56 Menotomy rd; Eugene C. Sullivan, 14, of 45 Menotomy rd; and Schuyler Taylor, 15, of 32 Howard st; All of whom attend the Junior High West.

The return of the trio was discovered by Gilbert W Hansen, stepfather of the Taylor boy He notified police that he heard noises in his cellar and upon investigaton discovered the missing tribe.

The three boys said that Harrow paid all of the expenses of the trip including their carfare home.

His mother, Mrs. Francis Harrow, beside herself with grief, said she had no idea where the boy had obtained the money. He had a paper route but could not have saved the money needed for such a trip.

Mrs. Harrow also said her son had told her, in jest, "That it would be great fun to run away, just to see if the cops could find me".

According to the parents of the prodigals, none of the boys had ever run away before. Mrs. Sullivan said the only reason she could think that her son would leave home was a bad report card which he brought home recently. He was chastised, his priviledges taken away from him. Mr. Sullivan put this aside, stating that you just can't let youngsters run wild.

Mrs. Harrow who has been suffering from an illness was under the care of her physician as a result of the escapade.

You will not have to leave your own street and will call only uopn those who invite you by lighting their porch. Two hundred mothers have volunteered and we need your help to make up the five hundred collectors required for the complete success of this fight.

Next Tuesday Evening, Arlington Post 39, American Legion will entertain members and their escorts with four vaudeville acts followed by refreshments, and dancing.

Three-Month Police Hunt Ends In Capture of Two Arlington Men

Two Arlington men were arrested by Woburn police early Saturday morning, climaxing a three month hunt by police of Woburn, Lexington Winchester and Arlington for the burglars responsible for the evergrowing number of car strippings and robberies in these towns.

Charles J. Smith, 22, of 60 Hillside ave., and Robert Campbell, 21, of 52 Newland rd, Arlington, were caught by Woburn police, riding in what appeared to be a stolen taxi.

After a check with an Arlington cab company, it was discovered that Smith, an employee of the company was allegedly using the car after hours.

Woburn police said the man at first refusing to speak, told them he was working and had just delivered a fare in Woburn.

Questioned in regard to extra tires in the back of the cab he reportedly said they were off of his car which was parked in Arlington.

Arlington police checked the car and found all of the tires on it. Further questioning reportedly brought the car strippings to light.

The alledged thieves were held by Woburn police for larceny of an automobile and suspicion of breaking, entering and larceny. They were brought to Woburn court Saturday morning where the case was continued.

Arlington police with officers from Woburn checked the homes of the men and found a large number of tires, wheels, car radios, blankets, batteries and other accessories.

Smith, a student of theology at Boston University, with his accomplice were held at the East Cambridge house of correction awaiting trial by the Grand Jury.

Drivers At Fault

The voices of a number of East [illegible] number of accidents at the [illegible] Street safety island.

In a thirteen month period, Jan. 50 to Jan. 1951, 54 people were injured in island accidents, one killed and 25 cars totally wrecked, to say nothing of the near nervous prostration caused the occupants of homes near the island, who witness every collision.

As a public service, the PRESS investigated the causes of these accidents.

The safety island has been in its present location for fifteen years and it is only in the last two years that it has been hit consisently. Prior to that the number of collisions could be counted on your fingers.

During the past two years, for some unknown reason, the majority of Arlington's accidents have occured at this island.

The chief of Police, assuming the island was at fault, placed spotlights on the edifice to light the base and had large flashing red lights installed in the towers of the island. These lights can be seen from Linwood st., on one side and Trowbridge st., on the other.

Shortly after the installation of the new safety measures the island was struck twice, once on each side.

A review of the accident records shows that nine out of every ten drivers who struck the island was under the influence of liquor and the tenth invariably to falling asleep at the wheel. A few of the collisions were caused by slippery streets.

With this in mind, it can clearly be seen that the island is not at fault; the drivers of the cars, in no condition to operate motor vehicles, and are suffering the consequences of their own folly.

Weddings and Engagements

McElaney - Corbett

Miss Nora Ruth Corbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Corbett of Arlington, was married there yesterday morning to St. Agnes' Church to Mr. John Arthur McElaney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A McElaney of Dorchester. The Rev. William J. Linehan performed the 10 o'clock nuptial mass and a wedding breakfast and reception followed at the Hotel Commander, Cambridge.

The bride carried with her white velvet gown, which was trimmed with seed pearls, a prayer book and white orchids. Her finger tip veil of French illusion was caught to a head-dress of seed pearls. She was attended by her three sisters. Miss Ann Corbett, as maid of honor, was gowned in orchid taffeta and carried pale pink roses, and Miss Dorothy and Miss Elizabeth Corbett, as bridesmaids, wore aqua taffeta and carried yellow roses. They all wore picture hats.

Mr. Robert S McElaney of Quincy was best man for his brother. The ushers included Mr. Paul E. McElaney of Dorchester, another brother, with Mr. William S. McElaney of Arlington, their cousin.

The bridegroom served with the Army. Mr. and Mrs. McElaney will live in Dorchester, after a wedding trip to New York and Atlantic City, N. J

Pecor - Swan

In the First Congregational Church in Milton Miss Priscilla Swan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gordon Swan of Milton, became the bride last Sunday afternoon of Mr. Paul Oliver Pecor, son of Mr and Mrs. Oliver F. Pecor of Arlington. The Rev. George B. Ratcliffe officiated, and a reception followed in the parish house.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin mad with a high neck, a roll collar, and long tight sleeves. Her chaypel-length tulle veil was caught to a cap of heirloom lace by orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of Eucharis lilies and white carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Dolores Watson of Belmont, and the bridesmaids, Miss Marjorie Spence of Milton and Mrs. Marjorie Spence of Milton and Mrs. Bowen Buckman, Jr., of Leicester, wore white helmets with their holly red velvet gowns and carried white muffs trimmed with holly and red carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Swan wore a gown of navy blue lace with a blue flowered hat and a corsage of pink orchids Mrs. Pecor, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in toast-colored lace with a black hat and also had an orchid corsage.

Mr. James B. Wood of New Hackensack, N. Y., was best man, and ushers included Mr. Alan G. Swan of Milton, brother of the bride; Mr. Charles Thies of Arlington, Mr. Winfred Hall, Jr. of Marblehead, and Mr. Donald Rieck of Somerville.

Mrs. Pecor was graduated from Chandler School and the Chamberlaine School of Retailing. Mr. Pecor, after serving with the Army Air Forces, is now attending Northeastern University.

tration cards.

All men who are eligible for draft including 18-year-olds who have registered but are not subject to call are allowed to enlist under this law. At present all men who enlist under this directive will be sent to Army training stations.

The draft board also announced that 161 men will be sent for a physical examination in February first Men called in this group will be those who were born before April 1930.

On February 9th, 54 men will be inducted into the service from this board and this group will include men who were borin on or before May 1929.

There seems to be more confusion rampart, according to selective service officials, relating Eligibility for enlistment into services other than the army.

The Federal law states, "Any person, 18-26, may enlist in services other than the army up to the date of notification to report for a physical examination." This means that up until the day notice to report for a physical examination is received, a potential draftee may enlist in the Navy, Marines or Coast Guard.

From the date of receipt of notice for a physical, a draftee is army property and may not enlist in any other branch of the armed services.

This holds true for all men who are deferred in class 2A, school or college training. They may enlist while they are 2A and at the end of their training period in June when they revert to 1A, until date of physical notification.

A student who is 1A postponed may not enlist in any other service because he is classified army property now and will be inducted at the end of the school year.

A Few Names

This is just to mention the names of a few Town notables who through some horrible oversight did not receive mention in The PRESS last year.

Arlington's runner-ups for fat men of the year, Bib O'Brien and Richie Regan, through whose great efforts the culvert through the Town dump was built.

Tiger Holleran who will no doubt be a congressman at some future date.

The three refugees from lower Mongolia, who, will probably poison us for mentioning their names. These lads, reportedly over here on the last banana boat run East Arlington's hottest night spot, where news is bourne.

The Dacey brothers, commonly known as the great contrast: Paul at 150 and Gene at 250.

East Arlington's contribution to the fighting front: Red Burke, Ed Corrigan, George Robinson, John Ferrell, Chic Ling, The Trembley twins, Paul Welch, Bill Colby, and all others whose names do not come in mind.

Then, last but not least, all of the non-vets between 18-25, and members of the reserve corps who are wearing that, "Korea? where's that"? Expression.

The younger lads should be good soldiers and sailors after listening to the "Angles" set fourth by the vets, on Edward's Corner.

fairs.

Has been active in the past with Cub Scout Sport Activities.

Has conributed much of his time to charity in town through his musical talents.

Kenneth P. Troy in his capacity of Veterans Investigator sees and knows the problems confronting the veterans, especially as he is in the home of the veteran in his work daily. I am not interested in the prestige or the honor that so many of our political minded citizens are striving for, but I am interested in Civic and church affairs to the aid to the worthy veteran. You can't sit on a board and thumb through applications for the veteran and come to any sound conclusion in regards to who is the most needy applicant That is why I have taken such an interest in this matter. To be quite frank I really think that the Veterans Investigator in each community should be on the housing authority board. I am in favor of more housing for the Veterans of Arlington. I have worked with nine different contractors in the greater Boston area and know the building business from the workingman's point of view which is an asset should the Town of Arlington decide on another housing site for the needy veterans of Arlington. This I am definately in favor of. Should this materialize, the Arlington veteran will be the first to be employed.

Income Taxes

By James R. Canavan, C. P. A.

1. WHO MUST FILE A FEDERAL TAX RETURN?

A Federal tax return must be filed by every individual who has taxable income of $600 or more during a taxable year.

2. HOW DOES THE NEW TAX LAW AFFECT ME?

The new tax law increases your income tax for 1950 by approximately 5%. If your tax for 1949 was $250 your liability on the same income for 1950 will be approximately $262; if your tax for 1949 was $725 your liability for 1950 will be approximately $758; If you are an employee, the additional tax has been withheld from your pay during the last three months of 1950.

3. HOW IS MY TAX DETERMINED?

Your tax liability is computed by applying the following formula:

Gross income
Less-adjusted gross deductions
Net income
Less-exemptions
Taxable income

The tax rates are applied to your taxable income. Each item in the formula will be explained in this tax series.

4. WHAT IS 'GROSS INCOME'?

Gross income is taxable income. It includes compensation for personal services, income from a business, profits from the sales of property, interest rent, dividends, and income derived from any source whatever, unless exempt from tax.

5. WHAT IS MEANT BY 'EXEMPT INCOME'?

Exempt income is income which does not have to be included in computing your tax liability. It includes such iems as the following:

1. Interest on state and municipal obligations
2. Accident insurance proceeds
3. Benefit payments to veterans under the G. I. Bill
4. Combat pay for enlisted members of the armed forces (limited to $200 per month for officers)
5. Group life insurance premiums paid by your employer
6. Gifts and inheritances
7. Life insurance proceeds paid as a result of death.
8. Old age and survivors' benefits payments under the Social Security Act or the Railroad Retirement Act
9. Certain stock dividends
10. Supper money paid by your employer
11. Unemployment benefits
12. Veteran's disability benefits
13. Payments received under Workmen's Compensation Acts.

Boston Museum Given $100,000

An anonymous $100,000 gift to Boston's Museum of Science has been announced by George P. Gardner, Jr., Chairman of the Museum's Development Fund. The gift has been ear-marked for a new auditorium at Science Park.

Dedicated to the memory of Edward S. Morse former Museum president, it will be the nerve center of educational activities at the Museum. Seating 350-400 people for movies and lectures, the auditorium will be equipped with the latest projection and demonstration equipment. It can also be adapted for exhibitions and meetings and will have adpacent kitchen and catering facilities.

The new auditorium will be part of the new Hayden Planetarium building, second of a five-unit structure. The 200-seat Planetarium chamber will replace limited facilities of the Little Planetarium at Temporary Headquarters which has already been host to nearly 20,000 New Englanders in a few short months.

T-B Association Opens '51 Drive

Theh Middlesex Health Association, the county tuberculosis agency with which our local tuberculosis committee is affiliated, launched its 1951 tuberculosis prevention program.

Organized in 1926 for the specific purpose of conducting a year-round tuberculosis control program in Middlesex County, the Middlesex Health Association is one of 3,000 voluntary associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association which covers the United States. These associations are called voluntary because they were organized and directed by the people and are supported by funds contributed by interested citizens.

The Middlesex Health Association has a Board of Directors which determines and directs its policy and program. This Board is made up of interested lay and professional people and chairmen of local tuberculosis committees in forty-four communities served by the Association. The program, which is planned by this Board, is conducted by staff members who are professionally trained health workers and by volunteers. Volunteers are extremely important in the tuberculosis movement and the program would be severely handicapped wihout the valuable and willing help of this corps of volunteers.

In planning the program for 1951, the Board of Directors carefully considered the particular needs of each individual community in the area. In general, all projects planned fall into three main catagories of work: health education, casefinding and rehabilitation. of Christmas Seals are the sole Funds raised from the annual sale support of tuberculosis associations six per cent of the money raised in the 1951 Seal Sale will be forwarded to the National Tuberculosis Association; about eight per cent will be sent to the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League for the control program on the state level, and the remainder will be used for tuberculosis control in this area.

State Reports Now Available

Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin has announced that copies of the Massachusetts Reports are now available through the Public Document Division of his office

Volumes 245 through 319, at one dollar per copy, may be obtained through payment of cash, check or money order at Room 116, State House. Checks and money orders should be made payable to "Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

Volumes 320 to 324, inclusive, at three dollars per copy, should be paid for by checks or money orders, payable to "Wright and Potter Printing Company", but should be ordered through the Public Document Division, Room 116, State House.

Shipments will be made, Mr. Cronin said, by express collect, or, if the purchaser prefers, within the State by parcel post prepaid, if the purchaser remits twenty cents per volume on cover costs of such deliveries. If desired, the Reports may be obtained directly at Room 116, State House.

LET'S MAKE IT A MARCH of DOLLARS for the MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE

March of Dimes Helped

Three-year-old Wanda Ellis, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., was enroute to St. Louis in a respirator when its power supply failed. Two nurses kept the child alive by pumping the iron lung's bellows by hand until power was restored. Arriving safely at the hospital in St. Louis, Wanda is kissed by her mother, Mrs. Harry Ellis, shown above. Wanda's treatment—like that of thousands of others—has been financed by the March of Dimes.

March of Dimes Huckleberry Finn

Larry McKenzie, 1951 March of Dimes Poster Child, sits in a wheat field and forgets he has polio—a smiling symbol of the thousands of children and adults who look to the March of Dimes for aid when polio strikes. The wheat field is on a farm near Larry's home on the shores of Lake Ontario. Twelve year-old Larry was hit by polio in August of 1949 and was aided by Orleans County (N. Y.) Chapter of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. His picture will be seen on thousands of posters throughout the nation during the 1951 March of Dimes against polio this January.

46 Horses Die In Med. Fire

Firemen from Engine four and Ladder one of Arlington headquarters assisted firemen from four other communities in battling a $75,000 fire which swept the seven stables of the well-known Rita-Marie riding academy in West Medford, early Thursday morning. 46 horses were killed in the raging inferno.

The fire, of unknown origin, started in the main barn shortly after midnight. A passing bus driver saw the flames and ran to a nearby home where he called Medford fire headquarters.

Winchester and Medford apparatus rushed to the line box where upon arrival, deputy chief Discoll of Medford sounded a third alarm.

Arlington apparatus was on its way to cover at Medford headquarters when the general alarm sounded and they wre dispatched by radio to the fire on Winthrop street.

Arlington, Winchester and Medford fire switchboards were jammed with calls of people reporting the fire which could be seen for miles.

Medford fire officials said that before the first hose line could be layed the flames had raced through the main barn and spread to adjoining stables. Over 3000 people were attracted to the blaze, many making heroic efforts to rescue the screaming horses. Only six horses and two ponies were rescued from the conflagration.

The fire raced through seven connecting barns in less than twenty minutes destroying a a $40,000 indoor riding ring claimed to be the largest in New England.

An estimated twenty peices of fire apparatus responded from Arlington, Winchester Somerville and Malden with about 200 men fighting the flames.

Fire chiefs from Malden and Winchester said that in their twenty-five years on the force, they never saw flames race through so many buildings in such record time.

Medford and Winchester police officers said they shot five or six horses before the flames reached them, to save them the agony of a death by fire.

Three golden palomino horses valued at $1000 apiece were lost in the holocaust.

The fire was actually out thirty minutes after it started, every barn completely destroyed and a house occupied by Mr. Earl McGrath owner of the academy, partially ruined.

Mr. McGrath, his wife; their daughter Mrs. Rita Farley, 27 John Farley 30, and two sons, John, 6, and William, 3, were forced to flee the house which was saved from total destruction by heavy barricades of water.

Saluted

Among those saluted with birthday greetings last Saturday (January 13, 1951) on the WCOP Young Timer's Club were:

Mary Frances Hanaford, 6 Harvard Street; and Loicia Musante, 36 Gov. Road; both of Arlington.

This popular young peoples' show is heard every Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and youngsters receive birthday salutes and and surprise messages from Uncle Ellie.

Mrs. Helmer To Address Eire Society

Mrs. Rufina McCarthy Helmer, 212 Gray st. Arlington will recall events in the life of her talented father when she talks to members of the Eire Society on Sunday, January 14 at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, at 3:00 pm. She has chosen for her subject "Denis A. McCarthy, Irish Poet of Boston, 1870-1931."

To readers of a generation ago theh writings of Denis McCarthy were well known and nearly every home contained at least one or two volumes of his delightful verse tucked into the family bookcase. Although the nostalgic love for his birth land was apparent through many of his poems, his deep devotion to America was equally evident.

There will be a half hour concert by the William Boyle Orchestra before the meeting and the Boyle Trio will accompany Miss Margaret Macpherson in a group of three songs, poems of Mr. McCarthy's set to music.

An additional feature of the meeting will be the exhibit of the reproduction of the famous Book of Kells, recognized by connoisseurs as probably the most beautiful monastic illumination in existence. Produced by the skilled hands of devout monks in the monastery at Kells, Ireland, in the 8th century, it is the story of the Four Gospels of he New Testament and the famous Christus page is a marvel of design, color and delicacy.

Through the courtesy of Harvard University which is lending the book, Mr. William A. Jackson, librarian of the Houghton Library of rare books at Cambridge, will be present to point out the beauties of the volume. He will be assisted by Mr. John J. Devlin and Dr. John E. O'Loughlin. The original is on gaurded exhibit at Trinity College, Dublin, where one page is turned daily.

Swiss experts in color photography were permitted to make a limited number of excellent reproductions of which Harvard was fortunate in acquiring one of the first.

Mrs. Walter J. Hubert, Hawthorne rd and Miss Lauretta L. McKenna, Acton st. Arlington Heights were recently elected to membership in the Eire Society of Boston.

Attend Meeting Of Cost Acct.

Discussing the problems involved in connection with the preparation and operation of fixed budgets on a semi-annual and annual basis, Edwin E. McConnell, Controller of the Norton Company of Worrester, addressed the regular meeting of Boston chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants held at the Hotel Bradford in Boston on Wednesday, Jan. 17.

The meeting was attended by three of the national officers of the association: President William B. McCloskey, Controller of Davison Chemical Corporation of Baltimore, Vice-President Thomas A. Dunbar of Belmont, Controller of the MTA and Secretary Arthur Gannarson of New York.

Mr. Dunbar served as chairman of the meeting which was preceded by a social hour and dinner.

In Mr. McCloskey's remarks he stated that in determining how best to adopt indusrial facilities to accomodate a greatly accelerated try should give first consideration war and cvilian production, industo subcontract work possibilities rather than uneconomic expansion of facilities to accomodate temporary high demand.

Local residents who have been active in recent meetings of Boston chapter include: Charles J. Doughty, 28 Harvard st., Arlington, Forrest W. Barker, 69 Huntington Rd.

Recreation Board Hears Dr. Hawkes

Recreation Board and Commission members of Eastern Massachusetts joined with the professional recreation executives of this area at a dinner meeting at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, Mass. on Tuesday evening, January 9, where the guest speaker was Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, Director of Fair Educational Practices for the Mass. Department of Education. His subject was "Raising Your Sights in Recreation."

Dr. Hawkes, a graduate of Amherst and BU., has a notable record as an educator in Taunton, Mass. Milton, East Bridgewater, Arlington, Abington, and Springfield, and a long record of civic service with Kiwanis, PAT., Community Chests and Educational Associations, and has been Chairman and a member of the West Springfield Recreation Commission.

The sponsoring organization for the meeting was the Eastern Massachusetts Association of which Daniel McFadden, Arlington Recreation Director, is President. The Committee in charge of arrangements was headed by C. Evan Johnson, Newton Recreatin Commissioner.

Garden Club Has Meeting

An interesting program was provided for members of the Arlington Garden Club by Mr. E. Thresher, representative of Esso Standard Oil, at the regular meeting of the club on Wednesday afternoon at Library Hall. The two colorful travelogues presented were, "New England Calling" and "Pennsylvania Gardens," depicting many beautiful gardens including the world famous Hershey Rose Gardens of Pennsylvania.

After presiding at the business meeting, Mrs. John J. Cox read a novel and humorous article entitled "I Married a Philadendron," written by the husband of a Garden Club Flower Arranger.

Mrs. Arthur H. Pulsford, program chairman, has engaged Mrs. Jane Wilkinson, noted authority on "finger Painting," as guest speaker for the next meeting.

University Theatre

Betty Hutton and Fred Astaire, two of Hollywood's most talented and popular stars, are teamed for the first time in the Technicolor musical comedy "Let's Dance" which opens next Sunday at the University Theatre. A brilliantly mounted production loaded with hit tunes and spectacular sequences, according to preview reports, the picture is said to be the year's top musical hit.

"Tillie's Punctured Romance", the companion film, starring Charlie Chaplin and Marie Dressler, was the first full-length comedy produced by Mack Sennett in 1920.

Preston Sturges, that master of merry-making, who brought "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" to the screen, has spun and produced an outrageously improbable, side-splitting tale, "Mad Wednesday", which opens on Wednesday for four days. Sturges' buffoonery is at its best in this rollicking account of a meek little man who is arbitrarily booted out of his "safe" little job, into the roaring current of an unpredictable life The hero of "Mad Wednesday" is played by Harold Lloyd. Frances Ramsden, by name Miss Otis in the film, is the beautiful princess of this fairy tale. This is Miss Ramsden's screen debut and she makes an enchanting princess indeed.

The troubles of a New York woman who trades the luxuries of her Manhattan home for a life on a rundown ranch in the Rockies keynote the fun of "Never A Dull Moment" the companion feature which co-star Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray. William Demarest, Andy Devine, Gigi Perreau, Natalie Wood and Philip Ober are featured in this gay romantic comedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abbate of 94 Varnum Street, Arlington announce the birth of a son on December 29, at the Mount Auburn Hospital. Mrs. Abbate is the former Mary Polvere.

Enjoyed Party

Doc's Spa and Margaret M. Long Real Estate had the pleasure of entertaining 110 children at their 3rd Annual Christmas Party on December 23rd, for which the Disabled Veterans donated their hall. Mrs. Mae Dixon of Arlington told a Christmas story by the flannelgraph method and Mrs. Marjorie Cheever of Belmont presided at the piano. The Misses Sally Davies, Patricia Cox and Margaret Vincent were in charge of refreshments and Mrs. Ernest Doiron took capable charge at the door. Santa was, of course, present with a bag of goodies for each child and with him came Rudolph the famous reindeer. This Annual Party is always eargerly looked forward to by the children of the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Regan of Cambridge announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Doris Louise, to Mr. Robert Peter Tassinari, son of Mr and Mrs. Robert G. Tassinari of Arlington.

"Miss Reagan is a graduate of the Wyndham School. Mr. Tassinari is a graduate of Tufts College, School of Engineering."

Arlington Pucksters Take 1st Place By Upsetting Latin, 1-0

By FRANK MAHONEY

The unheralded and unsung Arlington high school hockey team, which was to have taken last spot in the G. B. I. league, surprised the experts, Saturday afternoon, defeating Cambridge Latin, 1-0, and taking over first place as Melrose wnt down in their first defeat of the season to Belmont high.

Ironically enough, Arlington's only loss of the year was also to Belmont high and this only because of lack of practice.

Pre-season predictions gave Melrose high a walk-away this year, having downed the Brown University freshman, 4-3, in Providence. This was apparently the basis for the bragging both by and for Melrose.

Saturday's upset gives fairly definite proof that you cannot count spirit out of a high school game. Belmont High, now holding third spot in the league, is not supposed to have too much on the ball. However, they fought the superior Melrose team to a stand-still, before an estimated 3000 fans at the arena.

It is to be noted that although Arlington is in first place the worst is yet to come. In order to stay in top spot they must win the rest of heir games, The catch being Melrose, which is on the agenda a week from Saturday at Boston Garden.

This game should be the best hockey treat of the year, both teams shooting for top spot Last a similar situation developed between Melrose and Arlington, the home towners losing out to the Raiders.

Coach Eddie Burns says he thinks his team can beat the Red Raiders, our traditional football and now hockey rivals.

Stoneham is listed for Saturday at the Boston Arena, where anything can happen.

No Score

In the hard fighting first period, of the Romans, Spy Ponders game each goalie made three saves for no score and no penalties. The Arlington club threatened most of the period but the superb defense put up by the Latin men thwarted any attempt for a score.

The Latin club carried the puck into Arlington territory three times but each time Knobbie Timmons broke up the play single handed.

Tough Battle

The Arlington ice-men again carried the battle keeping the puck in Latin territory for most of the second period. The tightly packed defense of the rough Romans kept Arlington from scoring. Rigazio Latin goalie, made eight saves to Morgan's four.

Dick McAdoo, Latin defenseman was slightly injured when he crashed with Knobbie Timmons behind the Arlington nets in the last minute of play.

Timmons, who appears to be all-scholastic material, was again the leader of the Arlington team.

At the half-way mark in the period, McAdo was penalized for interference, given one minute in the coop. The Red and Gray icemen kept the puck in Roman territory for the entire minute but a solid wall of Latin players around the net saved their bacon.

Arlington scores

In a rip-roaring third period, with penalties on both sides, Arlington's Don O'Brien scored, assisted by Scot Coolidge at 6:25.

The score came after both teams, near exhaustion, had battled up and down the ice, Latin missing two beautiful chances to lay home shots.

Coolidge carried the puck into the Latin zone and completed a twenty foot pass to O'Brien who squeezed it through a jam in front of the nets for the marker.

AHS Hoopmen Lose Two Games Await Ruling

The Arlington high hoopsters still awaiting a ruling on the mix-up following the cock-eyed score-keeping at the Brookline game dropped two close games this week.

Newton downed the red and gray, 41-38 and two days later Rindge toppled the hometowners, 55-53.

Don Swanson captain of the team was highscorer against Newton with eleven points while Dick Power came up with 20 points at the Rindge game.
